

Best of the Poop

[Editor's Note: When one of our local competitors decided it would be a good idea to sneak into our store to check out how we did things, we jumped on the opportunity. While we slip into wine and spirits shops all the time to see how they do things, we have the courtesy to (a) tell the staff that we're from another store and (b) go outside of our market area. One Poop reader found this story "classless", but dozens thought it was hilarious.]

New Feature: Customer Spotlight!

We are truly happy to announce our first Customer Spotlight. We shine the Spotlight on customers who go above and beyond the call of duty in their loyalty to the Dog. We know that all of you have a lot of choices out there, and we're really happy for your business.

You can't imagine how good it made us feel to Spotlight this great customer! Dave Douglas, pictured here while apparently shopping for wine in our Elliott Road store on Wednesday.

Dave wins this coveted award because even though he owns Wishing Well Liquors, where he can presumably find an assortment of wine, booze and beer, he still took the time to shop at Hair O' The Dog this Wednesday.

Was it our low prices? Our great selection? Our informed, friendly service? Our clean, well-organized store? He wasn't saying, so we're guessing "All of the Above".
