2nd Annual Nekkid Sale

Our second annual Nekkid Sale will feature fantastic discounts for our customers, provided that they aren't encumbered by the trite Puritanical convention of clothing. The Nekkid Sale celebrates our low pricing, which is stripped of any unnecessary mark-up. Nekkid customers will receive handsome discounts, which will be funded by entry fees charged to folks who come in just to ogle.

"It's all about lowering people's inhibitions, which is, coincidentally, one of the many fine benefits offered by our products" noted Hair O' The Dog spokesperson Ivana Nutterbottel. "Last year's Nekkid Sale was a huge success. Well, maybe huge is an overstatement. But it was certainly nicely-endowed".

Dog management is hoping for better weather, as last year's Nekkid Sale (held in January) led to a number of cases of frostbite suffered by customers waiting in line prior to the store's opening for the day. Store officials would not comment, citing that litigation is still pending.
